Broadcast Vol.12

Powell Tronics (Pty) Ltd at IFSEC South Africa

Powell Tronics used the premier security exhibition in Africa to launch its latest product offering a Cashless Vending Solution PT-VEND, by running a bespoke biometric quick enrolment competition application, produced especially for the exhibition. Visitors were able to enroll via our quick biometric enrolment application at the Morpho Biometric terminals.

The templates were distributed to the access control system where our PT-GUEST application sent the visitor a random four digit pin number that could be utilised at the Cashless vending machine to establish if they were a lucky winner or not. The results were fantastic, due to the positive interaction with the visitors and the numerous prizes on offer.

This application also supports G-snack and Ciro Coffee vending machines via Biometric, card or pin code via an IP interface that allows clients to deploy their vending machines onto their networks.
